MISSISSIPPI CORRESPONDENCE.

CARSON'S LANDING, BOLIVAR CO. MISS., August 24, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

The hope of a full crop of cotton in the Mississippi Valley for the present year is again doomed to disappointment. Some three weeks ago our people were buoyant with the anticipation of a considerable crop, notwithstanding a large portion of our valley suffered severely from the long drouth, but since that time the opposite extreme of weather has come upon us, and the long continued heavy rains have forced the growth, lengthened the joints, lessened the making, and caused a ruinous shedding of forms.

Now the crowning evil is developed. The boll worm has made its appearance, ravaging strongly and vigorously in proportion to the time since its appearance, and from these tokens we may very reasonably apprehend a repetition of last year's disaster. Besides, we have a worm which, so far, has confined its ravages to the grass and the late corn, but some fear that it may ultimately attack the cotton. As yet, however, there is but little complaint to be made of damages done by it, but I fear that they will immediately web up and come upon our fields in a new and more destructive character. From these causes many of our planters, who expected to gather a bale to the acre, would now be satisfied with a certainty of a little more than one-half. This is almost a death blow to the planting interest. Beggared and ruined in purse and credit, we have made our final effort to rally our broken fortunes, and if now again blighted, where is the hope for the future?

It is currently believed that Eastern capitalists and speculators controlled the cotton market of last year to their own exclusive advantage. Planters heavily in debt to their merchants were compelled to rush their cotton in as soon as possible, and to sell it when prices were lowest and most ruinous, and vainly lament such stern necessity when, in the spring following, prices were good and remunerative. I see that the value of cotton is to droop again. Is it possible that the screw will be again applied? It is an old saying that "you can't get blood out of a turnip;" and we all at present may be considered as heavily depleted turnips, and already pressed to the lowest point of vitality. Twenty-five cents per pound is the lowest living price. That might clear expenses, but less than that will place the last straw on the dying camel of cotton planting in the South. J. B. BRANDER.

THE BONDHOLDER.

The Parable of the Pounds.

The following is a translation of an article which recently appeared in the Chicago Union, couched in scriptural language, and affording an apt illustration of the position of the bondholders to the people:

"And he taught the people and spake unto them a parable":

In the paradise of the bondholder it is as with the man who borrowed from a friend $10,000 in gold.

But when the war came, and the chief council at Washington declared that debts should be paid in greenbacks, he went one day and bought with his $10,000 in gold $25,000 in greenbacks. And he took therefrom $10,000, and went to his friend and said, "Here, my friend, take what I owe thee."

But the other said, "I loaned thee gold, and thou shouldst repay me in gold."

"Unbeliever," cried the other, "read this: 'This note is a legal tender for all debts, private and public,' etc. I, as a loyal man, show myself willing and obedient to the command of the chief council. Thou wilt resist the laws of the land. Thou art a copperhead and a traitor. Here, take that which is thine own, and go thy way."

And as the loyal man would not bury his pound, he went and bought him, with the remaining $15,000 which he had honorably earned by this loyal trade, United States five-twenty bonds, which netted him an income of $900 in gold, or $2500 in the money of the land, about 15 per cent. "And he clad himself in purple raiment."

And when he wished to increase his talents, he deposited his bonds in Washington; and it came to pass that he received permission to take from the people many thousands of dollars more every year, because license was given him to issue national bank notes at usury.

"For I say unto you, that unto every one which hath shall be given; and from him which hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away from him."

Then spoke the chief council:

"This loyal fellow shall be free from all taxes and assessments."

"And," cried the Republican Convention at Chicago, "laborers and tax payers, be honorable–honorable–honorable! Pay this loyal man, who is in need, with gold–gold–gold!"

"Amen," cries the Illinois Staats Zeitung.

But the writer says: "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear."

ARKANSAS.

–The Little Rock Gazette, of Tuesday, says: A railroad company has recently been organized under the provisions of the general railroad law, passed at the last session of the general assembly, for the purpose of constructing a railroad on the most feasible route to be found on the south side of the Arkansas river between Little Rock and Fort Smith.

–The same paper says: A friend writes encouragingly of the crop prospects in Marion county. At one time the corn seemed likely to be injured by the drouth but recent rains have brought it out. The same authority represents the democracy of that section as strong, active and confident. Marion, Fulton, Carroll and Izard counties have been filling up with emigrants from Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee, and the number is represented as largely increasing. Lands are high and people are doing well.

–Jake Frolich, of the Saucy Record, is a lucky cuss. He takes up about a quarter of a column in his local every week, in returning thanks for the presents the "saucy" girls, and others, send him.

–The Searcy Record says: 'Twas really distressing to witness the steady rain that fell for the week past. Every blessed morning one would find a portentous sky, and rain was sure to follow, like a Radical after an office, when he finds one in a thousand miles of him. At one time we were fearful for the welfare of the cotton crop; but we are assured by the best of our farmers that no damage as yet has been done.

–Mr. J. S. Gray, formerly of the Augusta Sentinel, is about to start a Democratic paper at Clarksville.

–The Des Arc Citizen says: The weather, that has been so long rainy, seems to have changed for the better, and we are now likely to have what we begin to need–a little dry spell. It is rather hard to predict, from the reports we have, how the cotton crop will turn out. The weed is large and full of bolls to the top, but may not mature and open well. There are no insects. Farmers seem satisfied that there will be a fair yield.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

NEW YORK, August 28.–It is stated that Gen. Rosecrans addressed a letter to Gen. Lee on the affairs of the country, and requested a written expression of the latter's views of the best plan of restoring good feeling. Gen. Lee responded, expressing reverence for the Constitution, and a desire for a complete union of the States as of old, and a belief that his desire was shared by the mass of reflecting people of the South. The South, he says, is anxious for peace, and the peaceful administration of the Government. They long for the privilege of self-government, and says the Southern people will treat the colored people kindly and humanely, if left to themselves. He emphatically deplores the attempt to commit the political destinies of the South to the colored people before they are prepared for such responsibility, and considers such an attempt fraught with misfortunes and calamities, and fraught also with destruction to the negroes themselves. His letters are indorsed by Beauregard, Stephens and Stuart.

A disease has broken out among the Brooklyn street car horses, and ten out of thirty-three have died since Monday. It is supposed to be a spinal disease, not contagious.

A trot yesterday on the Fashion Course for an alleged purse of $1000, between the horses St. Lawrence and Vermont, was won by the former. Time, $2:52\frac{1}{4}$, $2:41\frac{1}{4}$.

The Tribune states that at Greenpoint, Long Island, distant about ninety-two miles from the city, on Friday last, at midnight, a party of disguised men, five or six in number, took Lieut.-Col. Harrison from his house and covered him with tar and feathers, threatening his life at the same time. This was committed because Col. Harrison was a supporter of Grant.

NEW YORK, August 28.–Advices from Laguayra are to the 7th inst. The blockade of Pueto Cabella continued. A national man-of-war had captured a few coasting vessels.

BOSTON, August 28.–The pigeon-shooting match, for $400, took place to-day, between the president of the Massachusetts shooting club and a prominent member of the Winthrop club, which was won by the latter killing twenty-one of the twenty-five–single birds, to the former killing nineteen.

TENNESSEE.

The following items are from the Nashville Banner of Thursday:

The venerable ex-Governor Patton, of Alabama, was among the guests of the St. Cloud yesterday.

From a letter received by a gentleman in this city, yesterday, from Humboldt, we learn that the cattle plague has appeared in that locality, and that thirty had died within the past week.

Two men named O. Jackson and Geo. Cowgill were blown up by a blast while digging a well on the place of Peyton Brooks, Wilson county, Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. They were very seriously injured, but they will recover.

The Military Committee again had some of our hardware men before them yesterday. Although the object of the Committee appeared to be to ascertain the amount of arms and ammunition recently sold in the city, they did, this time, venture to inquire the color of the persons to whom they were sold. When the gentlemen under examination volunteered to show that negroes have been by far the largest purchasers, the Committee silenced them in short metre. What a precious document that "report" will be!

Edwin Pascal, Jr., committed suicide at Kingston Springs Tuesday night, by taking morphine. He was employed in that locality as a teacher, and on Tuesday afternoon went to two physicians and obtained a quantity of morphine from each. After bidding some of his pupils farewell, he proceeded to the depot, took the poison and lay down to die. He was soon after found in an insensible condition and taken to the Springs. Every effort was made to resuscitate him, but without avail, and he died at midnight. No reason has been given as to the cause which led the deceased to commit the rash deed.

Simultaneous notices in the Nashville Union and Dispatch, and the Nashville Gazette, of Wednesday, announce the consolidation of those papers, and the purchase of both establishments by the firm of J. O. Griffith & Co., who, combining the two, will issue to-day the Nashville Union and American.

There are 364 cases on the docket of the Supreme Court for the Eastern Division of Tennessee, to meet at Knoxville on the second Monday in next month, 154 of which have been filed since the last term of the Court. Several of the courts have yet to file their transcripts. The number will in all probability reach 400.

MISSISSIPPI.

–Some indignant farmers near Peep Springs, Mississippi, captured and hung a negro who was continually stealing their corn.

–Two Kukluxes have been sentenced to the penitentiary in Mississippi. They were loyal league negroes, who disguised themselves in white sheets, etc., and committed a burglary at Columbus.

–The Hernando Press says: The case of Philpots and others, charged with horsestealing, was continued over until the February term of the Circuit Court, on account of the absence of important witnesses.

–The reports of the crops from various parts of the country, do not uphold altogether the favorable reports heretofore had. The long continued rains, it seems, have made the cotton overgrow itself, and without a few weeks of dry, sunny weather, the yield will not be much heavier than last season. We hear of several parties reporting the army worm and boll worm, but no serious damage as yet has been heard of.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

ALBERT PIKE & CO.

Vera Atque Honesta Dicere.

THE Avalanche forgets itself. It is not the Dictator of the Democracy, nor the master of the APPEAL. No set of men and no party has purchased or earned the right to forbid the expression of any opinions we may entertain. So far as we may refrain from expressing any, it is a voluntary and not a forced silence; and when we please to speak out, we do not know that we shall ask permission of the Avalanche, from which we differed on the same subject a year ago. It has acquired new ideas on the subject of the freedom of the Press, but it must not attempt to crack its whip over the APPEAL; and it is especially absurd for it to do so, because we copy from an enemy's paper in the North an article showing the use it makes of the policy which is being pursued here. Does the Avalanche want to conceal such things from the people? Is it afraid to let our people know what is said by an enemy?

If it will inquire into the popular conviction in Haywood county, it may begin to doubt its right to dictate to us what we shall say, and on what topics we should be silent. It threatens to impeach us in the Central Club. Let it do so. Our mouth is not closed there by any pledge.

We do not propose to be misunderstood in respect to the questions raised by the resolutions of the Brownsville Convention. We voted against it, and are not bound by it. We told the Convention that no number of men nor any body of men could pledge us to consent, under any circumstances, to negro suffrage. We have changed no opinion that we have expressed during the past year on that subject. We retract nothing; but have said that we would not, at present, discuss the question. We refrained from discussing it last year, during the canvass for Governor; but we recognized no right in any one to require us to conceal our individual opinion. Let the experiment now making be fairly tried. If the general opinion of our party is against us, an individual opinion, simply not concealed, can have but little effect. We think that a fearful mistake is being made, that will go far in the North to lose Seymour and Blair the votes of two or three Democratic States; that it spikes the guns of Democratic speakers there, as it is disgusting very many of our best men here. We shall see, by and by, what we shall see.

TEST-OATHS AND THE FRANCHISE LAW IN TENNESSEE.

[No. 8.]

In the case of Garland, Mr. Speed for the United States argued that to practice law in the court was not a right but a privilege. We had always supposed that a franchise or privilege, once vested, was a right, or at least conferred rights that could not be arbitrarily divested. But the Speeds, Chipmans and Binghams are commissioned to make new law.

Mr. Speed argued that a member of the bar must not only have been fit to be an attorney of the Court, when admitted, but must continue to be so; and that if he becomes unfit, by the commission of any criminal or disgraceful act, or if he was unfit when admitted, for such a cause he may be disbarred.

This, he said, is no penalty, but only a disqualification. If he were guilty when admitted, he was disqualified. If he commits the criminal act afterwards, he becomes unfit, it is true; but, also, to disbar him is a penalty; and his unfitness must be ascertained in some judicial mode.

Undoubtedly, as Mr. Speed said, the Court might require every attorney at the bar, by a new rule, to submit again his pretensions on the score of professional qualification. Undoubtedly it could say that no person should continue to be an attorney of its bar, who had, after admission, embezzled the public funds or committed perjury or been guilty of treason. The only question is whether the Court could, upon making that rule, put an attorney to his oath that he was not a felon.

From the fact that the Constitution provides that no religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office, Mr. Speed argued that other oaths might be exacted. That is to carry a very long way the maxim, often fallacious and unsafe, that the expression or inclusion of one thing excludes another. Applied to a particular case, the argument is, 'The Court has a right to exclude from the bar a person guilty of murder or adultery. The Constitution forbids only the requiring a religious test; therefore the Court or Congress may require of every one an oath that he has never been guilty of that crime.

Of course the logic is execrable. From the prohibition of a religious test there can be inference of the kind. In a criminal matter, or in regard to a criminal charge, no man can be made to bear witness against himself. No law can compel a man to elect whether he will confess himself guilty of a crime, by refusing to swear that he is innocent of it, or to commit perjury, the penalty of the refusal to swear, being the deprivation of a right or privilege.

If no punishment, in the legal sense, were involved, the law would be none the less invalid. The imputation of crime and still more the confession of it, whether express or tacit, involves disgrace and dishonor, loss of public and private respect, perhaps loss of employment, perhaps domestic misery; and these consequences cannot be entailed on any one by law, except by conviction upon due trial. Moreover, this tacit confession may lead to investigations that will make known testimony on which the party may be convicted.

Chief Justice Marshall, it is true, said, in McCulloch vs. the State of Maryland, that the man would be insane who should say that Congress had not the power to require any other oath of office than the one mentioned in the Constitution. But he never said that it could require a man to swear that he had not been guilty of a crime.

It must be remembered that Mr. Speed's argument was based on the proposition that a court may exclude an attorney from the bar for any unworthiness. If it can do so by means of an oath which the party cannot take, it may require him to swear that he has not been guilty of any crime or misdemeanor whatever, or of a particular felony, or shameful or scandalous action. This would be like the justice administered by the inquisition.

Another reason why no such oath can be required is, that there is no presumption of guilt, to rebut which the oath is necessary. On the contrary, there is a legal presumption of innocence, for every man is presumed to be innocent until he is proven to be guilty; to the full benefit of which the party is entitled. He cannot be required to strengthen it. It is sufficient by itself.

Mr. Speed quoted, as strongly in his favor, the case of Cohen vs. Wright, 22 California, 225. But that case was against him, because the oath there held constitutional was that the party had not done certain things since the passage of the act; and the Court admitted that if the Statute had been retroactive, its constitutionality would have been doubtful.

The argument of Mr. Stanbery, on the same side, contained nothing new. He insisted that Congress could require oaths and additional oaths of attorneys practising in the Federal Courts, and that the right to practice there might be taken from persons guilty of rebellion or treason. Then he went over the thread-bare argument that the statute imposed no new penalty, and that the party might take the oath or not as he pleased, no one compelling him to take it. He said, "The oath does not punish him, nor authorize anybody to punish him, nor say that he has done anything heretofore that is punishable in the sense of crime or delict. He may stay away; no one can touch him. He may choose to practice in the State Courts; and that is well."

In reply to this, Reverdy Johnson quoted a passage from a speech of Lord Erskine, in regard to the British orders in council, in which he said that it was adding insult to injury to say to the United States that their shipping was not compelled to come into British ports, because they might return to America. "Would it be an answer," he said, "to a market gardener in the neighborhood of London, if compelled to pass a similar gate"—[one at which a tax was to be levied on him]—"erected in every passage to Covent Garden, that he was by no means compelled to bring his greens to market, as he might stay at home with his family and starve?"

Rebellion or treason, when it assumes the proportions of revolution and open war, entails no dishonor on the parties in case of failure. It would have been no crime in the case of Washington, if the Colonies had been subdued. It did not dishonor the heads of the great Houses of England, in the wars of the Roses. It did not dishonor Lee and Johnston. Upon the moment when the civil war ended, the officers of the Confederate States were received as gentlemen and equals by all officers of the Federal forces, who were worthy to be called soldiers and gentlemen. No one of that class of men regarded them as criminals. We were received respectfully as equals, by the high civil officers of the Government. None of these deemed us dishonored.

If it were required, as a condition to be complied with before men should have the right to vote, that they should swear that they had never been guilty of some infamous crime, such as forgery or assassination, few lawyers would be found bold enough to defend the constitutionality of the law, or shameless enough to argue it; because all would see that to force a tacit confession of infamy was itself an infamous act. It is because political offences involve neither infamy nor dishonor, that it is not thought infamous to force men to confess them or perjure themselves. That such offences involve no moral baseness, it needs no argument to prove. No nation gives up those who commit them, to the power against which they have offended. Even Turkey would not surrender Hungarian 'Rebels' to Austria: nor England, French 'Rebels' to Napoleon: and in the United States Irish 'Rebels' have always found an asylum and been received with honor. Witness Emmett, Macneven, Meagher, Mitchell and Savage. And none but fools think, and none but knaves pretend to think that Southern 'Rebels' are dishonored or untrustworthy men.

The Court, in Garland's case, by Mr. Justice FIELD, reiterated the conclusions arrived at in the case of Cummings. It held that the act of Congress partook of the nature of bills of pains and penalties, and was subject to the constitutional inhibition against the passage of bills of attainder, under which general designation, it said, they are included.

It held that an attorney could not be deprived of his right to practice in the Courts, unless by the judgment of the Court, for moral or professional delinquency: that the Legislature might prescribe qualifications for the office, but could not exercise that power as a means for the infliction of punishment.

They also held that the President's power to pardon is not subject to legislative control; that Congress can neither limit the effect of his pardon, nor exclude from its exercise any class of offenders; that the benign prerogative of mercy reposed in him cannot be fettered by any legislative restrictions; and that a pardon "reaches both the punishment prescribed for the offence, and the guilt of the offender; and when the pardon is full, it releases the punishment and blots out of existence the guilt, so that in the eye of the law the offender is as innocent as if he had never committed the offence. It makes him, as it were, a new man, and gives him a new credit and capacity."

They said, of Garland, "to exclude him, by reason of that offence, from continuing in the enjoyment of a previously acquired right, is to enforce a punishment for that offence, notwithstanding the pardon. If such exclusion can be effected by the exaction of an expurgatory oath covering the offence, the pardon may be avoided, and that accomplished indirectly which cannot be reached by direct legislation. It is not within the constitutional power of Congress thus to inflict punishment beyond the reach of Executive clemency."

Of course the Legislature of a State cannot prevent a pardon granted by the supreme authority of the United States having its full effect. A rebel pardoned is no more a rebel than if he had never rebelled; and a State cannot treat him as such, for any purpose whatever.

The minority of the Court, dissenting, in both cases, argued, first, that Congress could by law exclude from practising as attorneys, in the Federal Courts, those who had been guilty of treason or other crimes. This no one denies.

They then argued that the act of Congress did not come within the definition of a bill of attainder. They said: "The oath is exacted alike from the loyal and disloyal, under the same circumstances, and none are compelled to take it." Suppose the law were that one who should refuse to take the oath, should be outlawed or hung,—could not the same thing be said? Would it not be exacted alike from the loyal and disloyal? Would any one be compelled to take it? Yes: one who had committed an act of treason, though acquitted or pardoned, would be compelled to take the oath or be outlawed or hung. Would it not be a hideous mockery to say to him, "Loyal men also have to take the oath. If you do not take it, you shall be hung; but you are not compelled to take it. You may refuse and be hung."

"Neither," said the minority of the Court, "does the act declare any conviction of persons or classes. If so, who are they, and of what crime are they declared to be guilty?" For what it purposes to effect, deprivation of the right to vote, the act does declare a conviction. It provides that every one who cannot take the oath,—(who can not, we say, because the presumption is that every one will take it who can,)—shall not be permitted to vote,—that is, shall be deemed guilty of the offence which works the forfeiture of the right. Suppose the law were that every one who would not or could not take the oath, should be hung. That would only be to deprive him of his right to live. When the rope was adjusted round the neck of one of these unfortunates, and he was about to be swung off, would it be any comfort to him or satisfaction to the lovers of law and justice, to be told that the law under which he was about to be strangled had "declared no conviction, either of persons or classes." If a man can be deprived of one right in this infamous mode, he can in the same way and as lawfully be deprived of any and every other.

"Nor does it, said the minority, "pronounce any sentence or inflict any punishment." False? It sentences the party who will not swear, to lose his right to vote. It inflicts upon him, not for his contumacy in not swearing, but upon the judgment and conclusion of the law that he has been guilty of treason or rebellion, the punishment of disqualification to vote. If this is not punishment, what is it? It is not reward. A loss or deprivation, imposed as the consequence of an act reprobated by the law, is punishment, or language has lost its meaning.

"If by any possibility it can be said to provide for conviction and sentence, though not found in the act itself, it leaves the party himself to determine his own guilt or innocence, and pronounce his own sentence." So did the rack. So, under Domitian, did the refusal of Christians to sacrifice to the heathen Gods. They too, by refusal, "determined their own guilt and pronounced their own sentence." "It is not, then," said the minority, "the act of Congress, but the party interested, that tries and condemns." It was not the rescript of the Roman Emperor, but the Christian himself, refusing to sacrifice, and so confessing himself a Christian, that tried and condemned.

And yet it was coolly proposed to make Chief Justice Chase, who assented to this infamous enunciation, the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. Incomprehensible how four Judges, supposed to be above the malign influences of party, could unite in uttering what is at once infamous and ridiculous.

When Nebuchadnezzar the King made his image of gold, and a herald cried aloud: "To you it is commanded, O people, nations and languages, that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the King hath set up: and whoso falleth not down and worshipeth shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace," certain Jews whose faith did not permit them to bow down to idols and serve the Babylonian Gods, refused to worship the golden image, and were flung into the burning fiery furnace. According to the execrable and detestable logic of Chase and his three associates, it was "the party interested, that tried and condemned."

There have been such "trials and convictions" in all ages of the world,—used by tyrants and persecutors to compel the confession of acts or a faith which tyranny could not establish by proof, and which yet it was bent on punishing by martyrdom. It is incredible that the resort to such impious, abominable and infamous practices should be to-day justified by grave and learned Judges, to whose hands is committed the sacred trust of preserving constitutional liberty and the rights of the citizen guaranteed by Magna Charta and the Constitution.

A CITIZEN OF ARKANSAS SPEAKS.

We extract the following from a letter written to us by a gentleman of character and standing in Arkansas. He is not alone in his opinion. The Washington Telegraph fully agrees with him, and so do many of the leading men and best intellects of the State:

There are a few persons in our midst who are considering the "policy" of taking the infamous official oath prescribed by the carpet-bag Constitution of this State, in order to hold the petty township offices, the perquisites of which are not sufficiently inviting to the "plunderers," who are, moreover, anxious to have them filled by old citizens, that some show of respectability may be thereby given to their putrid party and so-called State Government. And there are others, I understand, in other parts of the State, who contemplate pursuing the same ignoble course. As your able paper is extensively read in Arkansas, I think a few words from it upon the criminality and folly of such a step would prove beneficial to some weak but otherwise very respectable people in this quarter. Respectfully, etc., ***

MISSISSIPPI.

Concerning the cotton crop, the Macon Record gives the following disagreeable picture of things in Noxubee county, Mississippi:

"The crop has been gathered in this section, and all the trouble is over. Never before was the worm so rapid in its destruction. Nobody thinks of asking if the worm is in the cotton, for it is all in the worm. Sand hills and prairies are all alike, and there will scarcely be enough left for seed. In some localities a fire could not have been more destructive than was the worm, and it was done so quickly that some farmers did not know they had the worm until they were half eat up."

Of the prospects in Oktibbeha county, Miss., the Starkville Era says:

"From every portion of the county we hear that the worm is making sad havoc with the cotton. A month or more ago, before these continuous rains, the prospect was fine, and promised a splendid yield. The rains set in, causing the cotton to shed largely, and now the worm makes the prospect for cotton very gloomy. The corn crop is good, but the rains have prevented the saving of more than half, if that much, of the fodder."

We hear, says the Vicksburg Times, of both the army and boll worm in Jefferson and Claiborne counties. The damage in the latter is not great; in the former it is very considerable.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, August 28.—Dinner dispatches say the Cheyenne and Arapahoe Indians continue their depredations, and are murdering inoffensive settlers in Central and Eastern Colorado. Tuesday they attacked Kiowa Station, on the Smoky Hill route, capturing thirty horses belonging to the stage company, and carrying off one woman and child whose remains were found yesterday shockingly mutilated, and brought to Denver for burial. Another band killed three men yesterday at Latham, forty miles below, on the Platte river stage route. They chased the Smoky Hill stage yesterday, keeping up a running fire, but without damage.

Gov. Hall organized a company of sixty volunteers, who left Denver at three o'clock this morning. Gen. Sheridan authorized him to call on the commander of Fort Reynolds for assistance.

No doubt every effort will be made to overtake and punish the Indians. Great excitement exists here, as the Indians are stripping the country of all stock and provisions. Not less than twelve persons are known to have been killed during the past two days.

A Cheyenne dispatch says that Ed. W. Pratt, of Peoria, Ill., in company with B. J. Everett, while herding a number of horses two miles from the city, early this morning, was surprised by five Indians and scalped. He was brought in to the hospital, where he died. The Indians succeeded in driving off thirty horses. Everett escaped.

Another party of Indians are reported to have driven away a large number of stock belonging to Wells Fargo, to twenty miles west on Crow creek. Gen. Wessels sent cavalry in pursuit, but nothing definite is known yet.

A Helena Montana dispatch says on the 22d, a party of citizens captured twenty Indians, who were out on a stealing expedition near Old Mission on the Missouri river. They are en route to Fort Shaw to deliver their prisoners to the military authorities.

Republicans of the Ninth Congressional District nominated Col. D. R. Dyer for Congress.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, August 28.—Maj Gen. Meade has arrived from Georgia, and was at the War Department several hours to-day, in conversation with Gen. Schofield. He will leave to-night on a short visit to Pennsylvania. Brevet Maj.-Gen. Barry, Colonel of the Second Artillery, has been ordered to report in person to the Secretary of War. Brevet Maj. Russell, Jr., of the Fourth Cavalry, has been assigned to duty at Headquarters of the Department of Louisiana.

It is stated at the Treasury Department that no counterfeit 7-30 notes have been presented for redemption or conversion for several months.

Gen. Rosecrans is expected to reach Washington to-night, from his visit to White Sulphur Springs.

The Indian Bureau has received advices from Superintendent Murphy, dated Atcheson, Kansas, August 22d. He fully concurs in Agent Wyncoop's views, that the innocent Indians who are trying to keep in good faith their treaty should be protected, while he recommends that Indians who have committed recent outrages be turned over to the military authorities, to be severely punished. In view of the importance of the case, he recommends that Agent Wyncoop be promptly furnished with the views of this department, and full instructions be given him for his future action. Mr. Wyncoop suggests that he be empowered to take the Indians whom he knows to be guiltless of the enormities committed on the Saline river, and who are desirous of remaining at peace, and locate them with their families, at some good point which he may select, and let these Indians be entirely subsisted by the Government until this trouble be over; to be kept within certain bounds, and let them be furnished with a small battalion of United States troops, to protect them from their own people and from being forced into a war. Let all who refuse to come within these bounds, in response to his call, be considered at war, and let them be properly punished. By this means, if war takes place, which he considers inevitable, there will be ability to discriminate between those who desire punishment and those who do not.

G. H. Falkner was to-day appointed Guager for the Third District of Tennessee.

Gen. Rosecrans returned this evening and resumed his quarters at Willard's. Much anxiety is being manifested in regard to the object of his visit to Greenbriar White Sulphur Springs. He was asked various questions on that subject soon after he arrived, all of which he answered readily and frankly. He says he went there on no political mission, and also without advising with his friends. His visit was purely one of his own conception, and undertaken for his own personal satisfaction, to ascertain from representative men of the South whether there were any obstacles in the way of peace between that section and the North. He was satisfied the power which organized and sustained the Confederacy for four years against the gigantic efforts of the United States Government to suppress the rebellion, could exercise great influence in restoring order and stability everywhere, at the same time promoting the national interests of the country. He was received by Gen. Lee and other prominent Southern soldiers, with marked cordiality. In all their personal conversations they were frank and unreserved, and their conversations were mainly with reference to advancing the common interest, irrespective of the causes which, for a time, divided the North and South, and resulted in the reconstruction acts of Congress.

Gen. Rosecrans says that his visit was satisfactory, and that the temper and tone of those Southerners was highly patriotic. As for the statement that he intends to issue an address signed by those men with whom he was in conference, he says that as his visit was for his own personal satisfaction, he does not know that any publication from him is required or may become necessary. The propriety of any such course rests exclusively with himself.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

Office--No. 13 Jefferson Street.

CITY MATTERS.

THANKS.—To the steamer Mayflower for full files of White river papers.

—To Felix Cross, Esq., for late favors from the South and East.

ELMWOOD.—H. S. King & Co. have on hand ten barrels assorted shells, suitable for laying off walks for grave lots. 3t

THE WEATHER continues splendid for the opening cotton crop, and we are now convinced that in spite of individual instances, like that of our correspondent from Como, we will have a splendid crop.

Y. M. I. D. CLUB.—The Executive Committee of the Y. M. I. D. Club is requested to meet this (Saturday) after noon at 4 o'clock precisely, for the purpose of devising arrangements for a grand procession and mass meeting on the 9th of September.

THE RYAN MURDER.—The examination of Hughes alias Miller, accused of having murdered Ryan some time since, still hangs fire before 'Squire Black. It was yesterday again postponed until Tuesday, the 1st prox. The prisoner is meanwhile in jail.

MASONIC COURTESIES.—We are informed officially that Cyrene Commandery No. 4 K. T. have accepted the invitation of their brethren of Missouri, and will attend as a body at the convocation of the Grand Commandery of the State of Missouri on the 15th prox.

FINE FRUIT.—The thanks of the APPEAL office are gratefully tendered to Messrs. E. P. Bates & Co., commission merchants, No. 258 Front street, for a box of most delicious peaches. Mr. Bates also showed us the finest native apple we have ever seen, weighing about two and a half pounds.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—W. E. Norris, having obtained liquors of me, and failed to pay as agreed by him, I publish and pronounce him a "dead beat," and warn all others against crediting or placing confidence in him. J. RIORDAN.

LEGAL.—To such of our friends as have any law business to attend to in North Mississippi, especially at Oxford and "thereabout," we recommend the card of Messrs. Lamar & Clark, which appears in another column. L. Q. C. Lamar, Esq., is too well known in our community to need a notice at our hands, and E. D. Clark, Esq., is a gentleman widely and well known in the legal profession.

ST. PETER'S CONCERT.—By a reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the sacred concert which we announced a few days ago as on the tapis, has become a fixed fact, and will be given on Tuesday night next. Due notice of the programme and participants will be given. Prof. Winkler is the manager—that is sufficient guarantee that it will be all that our critical public can require.

THE PERES CASE.—The case of the State against Joseph Peres came up on yesterday at 3, P. M., before Esquire Kiernan for trial, at which time the Defendant, Mr. Peres, appeared and by his counsel, Col. Landon C. Haynes, demanded a trial; whereupon John Bullock, Esq., counsel for the State, announced that he had examined the parties and the witnesses for the prosecution, and that he was satisfied there was no testimony against Mr. Peres, and requested the Justice to enter an acquittal and discharge Mr. Peres from custody; which was accordingly done.

THE CIRCUS.—Yesterday was another triumph for John Robinson and his corps of talented artists and artistes. The grand pavilion which arose, like Aladin's famous palace, on the Bluff on Wednesday, was again crowded at both entertainments, yesterday, with the very best people of our city. We can say truthfully, that this is no ordinary 'show,' and merits all the favors our people bestow upon it. Mr. Robinson informs us that as to-day is the last one of his stay among us, he will favor the citizens with another grand free exhibition of his wonderful menagerie—giving a grand parade through the streets this morning. Remember, there are but two more chances of "seeing the elephant." Improve them, big folks and little.

A STERLING FIRM.—In our columns of new advertisements appears the card of Messrs. Guy, McClellan & Co., wholesale grocers, cotton factors and general commission merchants. The gentlemen composing this firm—Messrs. W. W. Guy, J. H. McClellan, T. C. Park, and R. N. McClellan—are all well known and highly esteemed in our commercial circles. The new firm are successors to Guy, Alden McRae & Co., and Pearce, Park & Co., and we bespeak for them all the patronage formerly extended to these houses. They will keep on hand a well assorted and large stock of the very best groceries, bagging, rope, ties and plantation supplies generally. The personal attention of the gentlemen will be given to the sale of cotton and such other produce as may be consigned to them, and we cordially recommend them to our planting friends as a house in every way worthy of their support.

A LIE, AS USUAL.—The evening Radical sheet of yesterday has the following characteristic paragraph: "The Third Ward Republican Club transparency was torn down last night. Hon. F. W. Louis, the President of that Club, succeeded in finding the guilty party, and he was arrested this morning and fined ten dollars. This was a glorious Democratic achievement. We trust no Republican will disgrace his party by its imitation." As usual, the writer of the above, who lately so learnedly discussed about "lying," was following his vocation when he wrote it. The facts in the case are simply these: F. W. Louis, the Honorable, (God save the mark!) had placed out in front of the scalawag meeting-place, over the Tunnel beer saloon, on Adams street, a sort of cheap transparency, under which was hung the very appropriate emblem of a carpet-bag. A man named James Maddox, a member of the Third Ward Republican Club, who was present at their meeting on Thursday night, and signed their rolls, took a ladder yesterday and broke the transparency down. He was arrested for the act and lodged in the Adams street station, whence he was released yesterday by this same precious F. W. Louis, who paid his fine for him. With the characteristic unblushing effrontery which marks every action of this miserable scum of the earth, they have charged it on a "rowdy Democrat," and hope no Republican would do such a thing!

IT is not our wish to oppress any one with a suit for amounts due us for paving. We are willing to make any reasonable arrangements with those who wish to pay. All who desire to do so can make any reasonable and reliable arrangements for payment by calling at the office of the Company from 8 to 10 o'clock a.m., and thus avoid suit.

HORRIBLE AFFAIR.

Robbery and Violence.

A Probable Murder Committed by Unknown Burglars.

Night before last, about 10 o'clock, a party of negroes entered the house of Henry Duckett, who resides on Georgia street, near the corner of Tennessee, in South Memphis, and demanded the valuables of Mr. Duckett. He attempted to make some resistance, but one of the villains struck him a blow on the head with a hoe, driving the blade in his skull and felling him to the floor. Another seized Mrs. Duckett by the throat and choked her until she was senseless, and then rifled the house, securing and taking away about two hundred pounds of meat, fifty dollars in money, and three silver watches.

They left after searching the house thoroughly, leaving Mr. and Mrs. Duckett lying senseless upon the floor. Mrs. D. soon recovered consciousness and gave the alarm, but not in time to secure the murderous ruffians.

At present writing (9 p.m.) Mr. Duckett still lies in an unconscious condition, and no hopes are entertained of his recovery. No clue has as yet been obtained to the perpetrators of this terrible deed, but the police are making every exertion to secure them.

PERSONAL.

It is not exactly the province of an editor to pick up the personal quarrels of his friends, but it is his prerogative and duty to defend those friends when attacked by the tongue of slander. It is on this principle, therefore, and being thoroughly conversant with the facts, that we take upon ourself the answering of a card which appeared in the shape of an advertisement in the Evening Ledger of yesterday, signed by W. E. Norris, and making grave charges against Mr. S. B. Wright, the local agent of R. G. Dun & Co. It is not our purpose to answer the card of this man W. E. Norris. We pronounce it a tissue of falsehoods and misstatements from beginning to end, unworthy of notice, except that it might affect the character of Mr. Wright abroad, or where he is not known. We will simply give a plain statement of facts.

It has been our good fortune to know Mr. Wright, personally, ever since our connection with the APPEAL, and to know of him for a much longer period; and during our intercourse with him, which for months past has been daily and almost hourly, we have ever found him to be all that a gentleman and a man of business should be—truthful, honorable, polite and courteous to all, and possessed in the highest degree of that quality so necessary to the making of a true gentleman—charity. Some months ago, when Mr. Wright first came to this city and established his offices, a man came to him in rags, and told him that he was without occupation, and totally without means of support—no place to sleep, and nothing to eat. On further conversation with him, Mr. Wright found that he wrote a good hand, and without asking a reference, gave him clothing, secured him a boarding house, and gave him employment at what was then considered by him liberal pay. He went to work in Mr. Wright's office, and for a time behaved himself very well, and Mr. Wright introduced him to all of his friends, ourself among the rest. His natural character, however, soon began to be apparent, and he took to drinking very hard—going on several prolonged "sprees," neglecting his business, betraying the confidence of his employer, and making companions of the lowest and vilest creatures in the community. Mr. Wright bore with this conduct some time, but finally one of this man's sprees culminated in the Adams street Station, where he was locked up and spent a day and night. Even this did not totally destroy the kindness of Mr. Wright's feelings toward him, and he made one more attempt to redeem him, but in vain. He was compelled to notify him that he must cease his business connection with the house of R. G. Dun & Co., and with a delicacy of which the recipient was not deserving, instead of discharging him, allowed him to withdraw by a card which appeared in the Avalanche. This was a month or so ago, and since this time Mr. Wright has been persecuted by such notes as the following, (which is mild to some of the appeals which this creature who now attempts to vilify Mr. Wright, from time to time, addressed him):

MEMPHIS, TENN., August 6, 1868.
S. B. Wright, Esq.:

Dear Friend: Language is inadequate to express my regard for you and yours. I can only say, please forgive and forget the past; let all wrong deeds which I, or others, have committed be obliterated from the book of remembrance; let us perambulate the path of life, hand in hand, and still be, as we always have been, brothers; let us strive to do to others as we would that they should do to us. Mr. Wright, please try me once more in the employ of R. G. Dun & Co. Actions speak. I am, sir, very respectfully, your true friend,
W. EMERSON NORRIS.

During the stay in this city of Mr. Webster, the manager of the agency at New Orleans, certain changes were suggested, but were not to affect Mr. Wright, except as they might remove him to a higher and more extended sphere of action. The following is an extract from his report to the house in New York:

"As to Mr. Wright, I am satisfied he has done all that can be done, and that his social standing in the community is not excelled by that of any manager in the Association."

We will not pursue this subject any further. It resolves itself into a very small compass. Mr. Wright discharged this creature for incompetency and practices not becoming a gentleman. He tried every means to be reinstated, and failed, because Mr. Wright had lost all confidence in him; and now, acting on the impulse that always actuates such characters, who are more ready to forgive those who have injured them, than those whom they have injured, he has maligned and slandered him. With this we dismiss him.

PERSONAL.

—W. Y. Cirode, Esq., left yesterday for a pleasure trip north. We bespeak for him among our friends a warm and hearty welcome.

—Gus. Signaigo is in town and says the Grenada Sentinel is flourishing like a green bay horse.

—A. A. Paton, Esq., of the Memphis and Louisville Railroad, returned home day before yesterday, after a protracted absence in Europe.

—Joe, our Devil, following the example of his namesake of Biblical notoriety, is off on a furlough, "traveling up and down the earth." He has a "cub" on, however—so we are not quite without a devil.

—Gen. G. W. Jones, of Dubuque, Iowa, arrived in the city day before yesterday, en voyage to Iuka Springs, on a visit to his son. The General was prevailed upon to remain over and take part in the great demonstration night before last, and added by his presence greatly to the eclat of the evening. He is a thoroughgoing Democrat, and was one when to avow one's self such was "treason black as hell."

THE COURTS.

CRIMINAL COURT—Wm. Hunter, Judge.—On yesterday, in the case of the State vs. W. Holmes, indictment for larceny, a continuance by consent was entered.

In the case of the State vs. J. J. Pinkard, indictment for larceny, indictment quashed on motion.

In the case of the State vs. Randolph Anderson, indictment for larceny, a forfeiture was taken against the defendant and his sureties.

A forfeiture was also taken against the defendant and his securities in the case of the State vs. Andrew Nabors, indictment for perjury.

A continuance, upon affidavit, was granted in the case of the State vs. W. F. Clark, indictment for larceny.

In the case of the State vs. W. H. Donnelly, Andrew Young and Lewis Cross, indictment for housebreaking, a nol. pros. was entered as to Andrew Young.

A motion to quash the indictment was sustained in the case of the State vs. John Myers, indictment for perjury. Myers was discharged on his own recognizance in the sum of $500. In the case of the State vs. Chas. Kendall, indictment for larceny, in which a new trial was granted, the defendant was admitted to bail in the sum of $500.

CHANCERY COURT—A. Alston, Clerk and Master.—The Clerk and Master requests attorneys to return immediately to his office all old and new rule papers in their possession, as the Clerk is making up the hearing docket for the next term, and these papers cannot be dispensed with at present.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—The case of the State vs. Burditt, continued over to Monday next. In the case of the State vs. Simons, the defendant filed special plea in abatement. A demurrer to the same was filed by the prosecuting attorney, which demurrer was sustained by the Court. A jury was empanneled and sworn to try the cause, and the case continued over to Monday next. All jurors, except those engaged in the trial of the above cause, were discharged for the term. All jurors who desire to claim their attendance must make affidavit to the same before the Clerk of this Court to-day. Court stands adjourned until Monday morning next at nine o'clock. The September term of Court (law side) will commence on Tuesday next at ten o'clock a.m. The appeal cases for the months of August and September, will be called informally. All cases will be dismissed from the docket, when there are no attorneys marked upon the docket. Attorneys having papers of cases on the appearance docket, will please return such papers without delay, as they are needed by the Clerk in order to make up the trial docket for the next September term.

Useless Alarm.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Within the last six or eight days I have given the subject of the danger of collision in our community more than ordinary attention, and I have been led to the conclusion that there is a great deal of unnecessary alarm. I do not believe that a breach of good order is meditated by anybody, and I really think that the sole cause of the feverish state of the public mind originated from the fear the Radicals have of losing the negro vote; and to guard against that they have filled the poor negro's mind with apprehension of danger from that myth, the Kuklux; and that fear, and not a design to assault any one, is the sole cause of some apparently hostile movements. To illustrate: A lady from the country, to-day, told me that the negroes had a log church on her land, and that they never "held meeting" there without placing "sentinels" on guard. I asked her if they did any other harm. She said no, but the people were certain that there was something wrong going on, or they would not invariably take such precautions against surprise. Well, said I, madam, were I in your place, I should tell them, if they did not quit such foolishness as that, they should take their log church off my land, and I think that is all that you need do. A few fanatical fools have told them that the country is full of bloody minded men called Kuklux, who are the enemy of the negro and seeking to kill them, and if they did not band together and keep to the Loyal Leagues they would all be slaughtered. This is done to make them vote to suit the pockets of their "scalawag masters," and the poor, ignorant negro believes what they tell him, and deems the precaution which looks suspicious in his conduct a necessary means of protection. Poor negro, he is made the victim of the cupidity of keen scented carpet-baggers, whichever way he turns. Now let the true men of the country, the humane Southern man, who knows the value of the negro, only call to his assistance a little common sense and reflection—let him but appeal to his own experience in the management of the negro—and he will laugh at his own fears. A more harmless, confiding and inoffensive race of beings never lived. If they choose to listen to the fools who persuade them that their continued freedom depends upon a vote for Grant, and for that poor, contemptible little horse fly named Smith, for Congress, why let them vote so. It can't hurt us. Seymour will be elected, and if the little horse fly should get the certificate of election from Brownlow, he will never get a seat in Congress, and so can't do us any harm. If he can trade himself into an election by swapping off Grant for himself, why let him rip. When Seymour is President, and the Congress is made up of gentlemen, there will be no room in the Capital for such cattle as he is. The Government of Tennessee will go into the hands of the real people of the State, and you will never hear of the bombfly any more. The poor negro will learn his place, and under the kind treatment which he will receive at the hands of the Southern people who have known him all his life, and know how to treat him, he will become once more contented, and comparatively happy. Tell your readers Mr. Editor to dismiss their fears. Let the political speeches and harrangues go on. Have your torch-light processions, and barbecues. Sound the brass band, and sing the campaign song, Seymour is coming, and with him peace, freedom and prosperity once more. The Democratic party means harm to no one, and never fear no harm. Let the Police watch for, and catch the rogues. Let the courts of the country go on, and do their duty, and in the midst of the ground swell that is to bring in Seymour and peace, let the farmer gather in his crop. The election will soon be over, the inauguration will come off in March, and all things be in readiness by early spring to plant for another crop. C.

THE LATE ROBBERY OF POWERS & MCGEOY.—Detectives Connell and McCune succeeded yesterday in finding the whole of the property that was stolen from the store of Powers & McGeoy, on Tuesday night, amounting to some fifteen hundred dollars worth. As will be seen, Mr. Peres, whose name was connected with the affair by mistake, was honorably discharged. The other parties were continued until to-day.

CROP PROSPECTS.

COMO, PANOLA COUNTY, MISS., August 28, 1868.
Editors Memphis Appeal:

Permit me, through your columns, to call the attention of that portion of the world interested in cotton to the present condition and prospects of the growing crop. For more than thirty years I have been actively engaged in the production of the staple, and up to two weeks ago I had never seen a more flattering prospect, at the season of the year, for a heavy yield; but, about that time, the bollworm made its appearance in this section of country, and already the crop is damaged from 33⅓ to 50 per cent., and if there is no abatement in the ravages of this unwelcome visitor, my neighbors and myself will not make more than one bale to five acres planted, while with an average yield we ought to save at least two bales to every three acres. There are also many evidences foreshadowing the return of the caterpillar or army worm, and if they do come in force, as they did last year, our labor will be lost, our country impoverished, and the production of cotton, with free labor, declared a failure, as thousands of planters of the past three years experience will testify!

With the close of the present commercial year, the statistics of the various cotton marts of the world will show there is less raw material on hand than there has been for many years, and while our cotton may not be "king," it will command greenbacks, as it is equivalent to gold for a medium of exchange between this country and foreign nationalities, with whom we are in constant commercial intercourse. With these plain facts before us, will it not be wise in us, as producers of cotton, to count the cost of raising it, and fix the price at remunerative rates? Or shall we rush it to market, as we have been heretofore doing, and let it become only an article of speculation, fluctuating in value with the whims and views of the bulls and bears of Wall street. N. R. SLEDGE.

THE SOUTHERN HOTEL is the favorite stopping place for the planters of Mississippi, Arkansas and West Tennessee, the charges being reduced from $3 to $2 per day. The proprietors being old citizens, know how to please their country friends. Capt. J. E. Woolfolk, of Senatobia, will be found in the Hotel, and will be pleased to see his many friends. 50 gentlemen day boarders at $6 per week. Gentlemen may have rooms without board at $4 to $6 per week. Rates reduced from $3 to $2 per day. Steamboat and Railroad officers' patronage solicited. 1w

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

LOUISVILLE, August 28.—Weather clear and warm. River swelling—three feet six inches in the canal.

Departed—Maggie Hays, New Orleans; Anna, Cincinnati; America, Memphis.

MEMPHIS, August 29.—The weather is warm. The river here is steadily declining, with nine feet scant on the bars between here and Cairo. At St. Louis the river is still on the decline, with five and a half feet in the channel between Cairo and St. Louis. The Ohio was rising slowly at Louisville on Thursday, with three feet four inches in the canal and four feet on the bars in the Lower Ohio. White river is near bank full, but falling. The Arkansas is receding, with three feet in the channel from the Bluff to the mouth, and thirty inches from Pine Bluff to Little Rock.

Arrivals.

Steamer Sam J. Hale, Cincinnati.
" Mayflower, White river.
" Julia, Vicksburg.
" City of Alton, St. Louis.

Departures.

Steamer Julia, St. Louis.

In Port.

Mayflower, Sam J. Hale, City of Alton.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Sam. J. Hale arrived yesterday morning from Cincinnati, with a full cargo of merchandise. She returns to Cincinnati to-day at five p. m. Captain Walker commands.

The Julia passed up yesterday for St. Louis, with a fair trip, including a large lot of cattle.

The Rubicon was overdue last night, bound for Vicksburg. She probably passed down in the night.

The Continental, en route from St. Louis to New Orleans, is hard aground at Island 30, and will have to lighten up in order to be able to get over the bar.

Captain Walker, of the Hale, reports only four feet on the bars in the Lower Ohio.

The Lizzie Gill is overdue from St. Louis, bound for New Orleans.

The Maggie Hays, Fannie Brandies and America are due to-morrow from the Ohio river.

The W. R. Arthur is due from St. Louis.

The magnificent passenger steamer R. E. Lee, Capt. John Cannon, leaves Cairo this evening for New Orleans, and will be here to leave this port on Monday.

The splendid passenger steamer Mayflower, Capt. Wm. Ashford, leaves to-day at 6 p.m. for White river and all way points through to Jacksonport, connecting at Devall's Bluff with the Little Rock railroad for points on the Arkansas. Messrs. Charley Smither and Charley Sharpe, two clever and attentive gentlemen, have charge of the office.

The fine steamer City of Alton, Capt. Wm. Thompson, is the regular St. Louis packet, leaving here to-day at 5 p.m. Mr. White is her chief purser.

We presume that the habit of racing has been pretty effectually stopped for the present in the upper Ohio river, as the United States Local Inspectors of the port of Pittsburg have recently taken away the license of Conover Hodge, a pilot on the steamer Franklin, and suspended him from duty. They have also severely censured the captains of several boats. This was all owing to the fact that several collisions have taken place on that river, and should be a warning to steamboatmen on our waters.

The magnificent packet Des Arc, having been repainted and "fixed up," will leave here for White river next Tuesday at 5 o'clock p.m. Capt. John D. Elliott will be in command, with Capt. James Elliott and Matt Glass in charge of the office. It is useless to say anything in favor of either boat or officers, as both are well known. Capt. Elliott informs us that he is "going to stay" in the White river trade.

The Tyrone enters the Louisville and Cairo trade.

The Dexter, Thompson, Dean, Belle Lee, Indiana, Richmond and Louisville are laid up at Cairo.

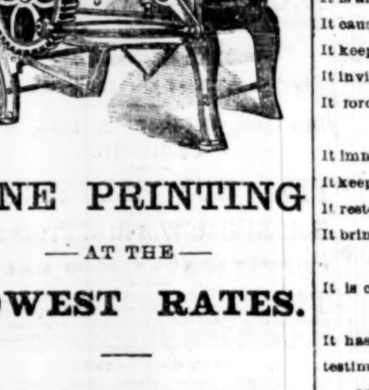

The W. A. Caldwell will resume her trips in the Arkansas river trade next week.

Capt. Frank Hicks was in the city yesterday. He will leave for St. Louis in a few days, to bring the Magenta out. She makes her initial trip in the Memphis and New Orleans trade on the 16th of next month.

The Louisville Journal of Thursday speaks in the following complimentary manner of the Belle Lee: The magnificent steamer Belle Lee, now lying at Cairo, is about completed in the many little ornamental and other additions to her, and we learn from a gentleman whom we saw from there yesterday, that she is the admiration of everybody down that way or passing. We stick to our assertion made several days ago, that she is going take everything before her in the coming season. She leaves Cairo for Memphis on the 15th proximo, where she will go into a line running to New Orleans and connecting with the Memphis railroads. We wish Capt. McGill and his beautiful Belle Lee much success."

Our Latest Improved
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.
GROVESTEEN & CO.,
499 Broadway, N. Y.,
THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.
It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.
The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.
They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep5 d&wly

NOTICE.—To the Merchants of Memphis—The steamer DES ARC will resume her trips in the White River Trade on Thursday, the 3d day of September, 1868, and as I am satisfied that it is the wish of both the planter and merchant that the local packets receive and transport merchandise on which there is C. O. D. charges, and in view of the fact that the refusal to transport such freight has operated very much against the trade of Memphis, the steamer DES ARC (a home packet, owned and controlled in Memphis) will on resuming her trips, receive all C. MEMPHIS APPEAL.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, August 28, 1868. }

Business in our general market is very dull, and a sympathetic feeling pervades financial circles. We are now on the turning point from one year's business to another, and added to this is the near approach of the close of the month, in view of which trade never fails to languish in this market. It is expected that the first of the coming month will be marked by a gratifying revival of trade in all departments, that will increase very materially as the season advances. Money is easy at the banks but scarce among the masses. Exchange is likewise easy and inactive, enough making to supply the demand. Rates are unchanged and firm.

City Scrip is scarce but little in demand. It would be difficult to get hold of any at less than 75c, although dealers picked up a few small amounts to-day at 70@72c. Dealer's selling rates are 75@80c.

County Scrip continues to move with some little animation at 52@53c buying, and 55@56c selling.

Police Scrip is scarce and in demand at 75@77½c, and is held by dealers at 80c.

The market for Stocks and Bonds was a little more animated. Since yesterday there have been sales of 420 shares Memphis and Charleston Railroad stock at 53½c; 20 shares Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad stock at $10; $2000 in city bonds at 50½c, and a like amount on private terms. Offerings of every thing in this line are very light. Orders for Memphis and Ohio Railroad stock, and securities of the Memphis and Charleston and Mississippi and Tennessee Railroads are still on hand at previous rates. Quotations of State, Government and other securities from New York to-day are as follows: Tennessee bonds 64; new do 63; 5-20s, coupons of '81 114¼; '62, 113⅞; '64, 109⅞; '65, 111⅜; new issue, 108⅝; '67, 108¼; 10 40s, coupons, 108¼; bonds firm. It will be seen that Governments have advanced materially in the past few days, which is an indication of an easy money market in New York, notwithstanding the heavy drain of currency Westward to move the grain crops—a drain amounting to $8,000,000 per week for the past two weeks.

Solicitor Binckley, of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, has written an opinion in relation to the claims of the Internal Revenue act of July 20, touching the express provision that the processes of distillation and rectification shall not both be carried on within the distance of six hundred feet. Mr. Binckley decides that where rectifiers and distillers are in business within six hundred feet of each other, the first person who, in good faith, gives notice in writing, under section six of the law, that he intends to carry on the business of rectifying or distillation, would acquire a right of preference, subject to be divested by laches, fraud or failure to complete his compliance with law in all other respects. When a person has both a rectifying establishment and distillery within six hundred feet of each other, the law gives him the option of discontinuing the branch he may select.

The Daily Bulletin of New York of the 24th inst., in its regular weekly summary, has the following interesting review of that money market: The general course of financial affairs during the week has been just about what might have been expected. There has been a further demand for currency at the West which has been so easily met as to hardly influence the rates for money. Governments with a falling off in the demand have declined in price. Railroad and other stocks have been entirely governed by speculative operations. Erie has been down to 44, and the whole list is in an anomalous position as to real values, some being too high and others too low. Gold has continued to decline. In the same week of 1867 the money market was decidedly influenced by the drain of currency to the West, and call loans were quoted 1 per cent. higher. This increase in the rate proved to be quite temporary and the rate went back to 3@4 per cent., at which it remained till the middle of September. Bonds, stocks, gold and governments were without any feature worth noticing.

Cotton Market.

It is useless to talk of cotton, with only a drayload of it on the market. Buyers have orders, but can't get enough to make a shipment.

In New York to-day cotton opened quiet and firm, but closed weak at 30½c for uplands and 31c for Orleans, sales being 1000 bales.

The Liverpool market was steady at 11d for uplands and 11¼d for Orleans, with sales of 15,000 bales.

The Liverpool report for the week is incomplete and as follows, as received per telegraph: Sales to speculators, 15,000; to exporters, 24,000; stock, 462,000; afloat, 709,000, of which 3000 are American. Compared with last statement, this shows the following changes: Decrease in stock, 48,000; decrease in supply afloat, 14,000; total decrease, 62,000; decrease in export sales, 1000; increase in sales to speculators, 2000. American afloat, 3000. Stock in New York at last advices, 29,000.

COTTON GINS.

Pratt's Southern Made Cotton Gin

THIS GIN is regarded by planters who have used it, as the best for sample, picking the seed clean and light draught. Planters cultivating bottom lands are requested to examine the Eureka Gin at Farrington & Howell's, 268 Front street. It will pay for itself in ginning fifty bales. A. N. Gunnison, manufacturer of the Steel Comb Gin before the war but now a planter, gives the following certificate:

"MEMPHIS, TENN., January 31, 1868.

"I take pleasure in recommending to planters cultivating Cotton on bottom lands of the Mississippi, Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers, the Eureka Gin, made by Daniel Pratt, of Alabama. This Gin separates the hulls, bolls, etc., from the Seed Cotton, makes a good sample, and is superior to any other Gin for bottom lands. I have used one myself on a farm in Washington county, Miss., and it operates well and gives entire satisfaction in every respect. A. N. GUNNISON."

Orders for Gins, from 40 to 80 Saws and Gum Belting, at Factory Prices, addressed to the care of FARRINGTON & HOWELL, 268 Front street, Memphis, promptly filled. Presses and Gearing put up, and Gins repaired by a skillful Ginwright. G. W. TRUHEART,

HEMORRHOIDS OR PILES

WHETHER OF LONG STANDING OR RECENT origin, internal or external, whether attended with Prolapsus, Hemorrhage or obstruction, and all by

External Application,

No internal adjuvants being required in any case, only to regulate the bowels, if constipated, or in Diarrhea and Dysentery.

The PILES, while astonishingly prevalent in their various forms amongst all classes of both sexes, are, at the same time, the most distressing, frequently dangerous, and hitherto most difficult of cure.

Persons who suffer any length of time with the Piles generally try everything they can learn of purporting to cure the disease, yet realize no permanent advantage therefrom. They have been told professionally, perhaps, there was "no permanent cure for Piles," and consequently have despaired of any future cessation from pain and suffering.

To all such a SPECIFIC is offered for their relief. The

BUCKEYE SALVE

Is a strictly scientific combination of well known remedial agents, and the proprietors have no hesitation in saying the BUCKEYE SALVE is the

ONLY INFALLIBLE SPECIFIC

Ever discovered for that disease, and which cures by outward application only, and that in time to come, as in the past, it will stand the test of trial without a failure, to perform all the proprietors claim for it, if the directions are attended to.

A large number of gentlemen throughout the country of high character and influence have voluntarily attested to its efficacy in their own cases, not from hearsay, and whose certificates may be seen by reference to the publications.

The proprietors will forward to any address one bottle, postpaid, on receipt of the retail price, $1 00 per bottle.

Hopkins did pay the sum of $500 00.

And whereas, in order to secure and save harmless the said John Overton, Thomas Bibb, R. C. Brinkley and A. F. Hopkins by said James W. Pryor and Katherine M. Pryor, his wife, by their deed dated July 3, 1856, upon Trust; that in case a majority of the beneficiaries in said indenture of Trust mentioned should direct a sale of said premises, then the said Charles Kortrecht was thereby authorized and instructed to sell said premises, at public auction, in the city of Memphis, State of Tennessee, after giving sixty days notice in one or more of the newspapers published in said city of Memphis, of the time and place of said sale, said sale to be made for cash or credit, as a majority of the beneficiaries in said Indenture of Trust named might direct, and out of the proceeds of said sale to pay said accommodation bills and the note aforesaid, and to pay the remainder, if any, over to said Arthur M. Hopkins, as will appear by reference to said Trust Deed, recorded in the Recorder's office of Cook county, Illinois, in Book 210 of Deeds, page 242.

And whereas, default has been made in the payment of said accommodation bills and note, and application has been made and a sale of said premises, for cash, has been directed by a majority of said beneficiaries in said Indenture of Trust named, for the purpose of carrying out said Trust; now, therefore, public notice is hereby given, that I will, on
